Old Irish blessing

May love and laughter light your days,
and warm your heart and home.
May good and faithful friends be yours,
wherever you may roam.
May peace and plenty bless your world
with joy that long endures.
May all life's passing seasons
bring the best to you and yours!

Letter from the President

By the time you read this, we will have begun the season of celebrating. We have something for everyone and I'm sure many new memories will be made. I would like to thank all of you in advance for supporting Club events, selling our St. Patrick's Day Raffle tickets, and just being the great members that you are.

Many thanks to our kitchen crew, who will be working our fish fries and other events. The next several weeks will give them time to break in the new oven. We've had volunteers putting in countless hours cleaning, sorting, bartending and getting things ready for our busiest season of the year. Thank you so much for your time. This past year has been a tough one. We have lost longtime, hardworking, dedicated members, but I am so proud of all who have stepped up to lend a hand where needed. You are what makes our Club great!

On behalf of myself and the Executive Board, we wish you a very enjoyable St. Patrick's Day season. Have fun and be safe. All the best, Linda E. Walsh.

BOOK BUZZ

Bonnie Easton

Tana French, the best-selling Irish author of the Dublin Murder Squad mystery series, is back with the sequel to her new series The Searcher. Scheduled to be released March 5, The Hunter continues the story of the retired Chicago police detective, Cal Hooper, who chose to settle on the west coast of Ireland. In this story he befriends Trey Reddy, a homeless teen, and employs her to help in his furniture business. Then Trey's conman father shows up to cause trouble. Johnny tries to get townspeople to invest in a get-rich-quick scheme. He is being pursued by Cillian Rushborough, who is murdered, and Johnny is the main suspect.

Irish Milkshake Murder is the title of a book made up of three cozy mysteries: "Irish Milkshake Murder" by Carlene O'Connor, "Murder Most Irish" by Peggy Ehrhart, and "Mrs. Claus and the Luckless Leprechaun" by Liz Ireland. The stories' plots vary from a wedding guest is dead after drinking a poisoned milkshake; another deadly milkshake kills a diner in New Jersey; and a third milkshake from an ice cream stand is thought to be the cause of death of one of its customers. Who would think something so delicious could be so deadly?

Close to Home by Michael Magee is the author's first novel. In 2013, Sean Maguire returns to his home in Belfast after completing his degree in literature. He faces a future with no job and few prospects in a recession. The Troubles also come back to haunt him since his estranged father hid guns and was almost executed by the IRA. Sean finds work as a bartender in a night club and squats in a mold-ridden flat. In his frustration, he attacks a stranger at a party. His sentence is community service and a fine, which causes him more stress. His life begins to turn around when he makes new friends at Queens University who offer him a glimmer of hope.

The Selkie's Daughter by Linda Crotta Brennan is a children's fantasy about a girl in Nova Scotia with a secret. Brigit is half human and half seal. She is seeking to save her family from the vengeful king of the selkies. Brigit must travel to Sule Skerrie to confront the Great Selkie. She is still in human form, but webbing is growing between her fingers, so she must soon join her mother in the sea. Causing her great pain, she tries to cut it, but to no avail since it just grows back. She needs to tell the Great Selkie the truth, so that she can protect those she loves before it is too late. Brennan weaves Celtic folklore into her story.
