As read at the October 9, 2023 General Membership Meeting:

Comes now, member in good standing of the IACES, Francis McGarry, membership #7988.

I propose to amend section 3.2 of our Bylaws, by adding section 3.2.5, which shall read:

Section 3.2.5 Each member of the Executive Board shall complete any and all trainings that are necessary, required, or deemed appropriate by the Attorney General of the State of Ohio, IRS Code and/or regulations and the laws of the State of Ohio. This shall include, but not be limited to, all Charitable University trainings provided by the Ohio Attorney General. All trainings shall be completed within 30 days of election and/or appointment and a certificate of completion shall be obtained for each training. Any and all certificates of completion shall be reported to the Club membership and maintained by the Executive Board.

Description:

The IACES requires bartenders to be trained but not our board. We have lost our legal status, temporarily, due to our lack of compliance and need to ensure that does not happen again. We have had compliance issues in the recent past that could have been avoided with appropriate trainings. The Ohio Attorney General offers trainings on board governance, governmental filings, financial operations, and fundraising (which would include raffles). These trainings are free and accessible online; 884 certificates have been issued this year for completion of trainings.

This proposed amendment gives the board the ability to stay up to date on changes in the laws and codes of Ohio. The club has to not only comply with the IRS, but also: Fire Code, Department of Health Code, Liquor Code, Ohio Revised Code, and our bylaws, for example. What is “necessary, required or deemed appropriate” gives the board the ability to interpret this proposed bylaw and allow each board member appropriate training. It also allows the Club to protect itself by being compliant while protecting board members by instructing them on their responsibilities. Trainings are as short as an hour webinar; that is shorter than the bartender training we require and considerably shorter than the 18 hour training a club member must complete to have the kitchen open. It is my humble belief that those elected to guide and manage our Club should be knowledgeable in what they are managing. An informed board is good for our Club and creates a structure that is sustainable as new board members are elected.

This proposal is published as a courtesy to the membership. The second reading and discussion will occur at the November 13 General Membership Meeting and a vote will occur at the December 11 meeting. Please, join us and share your thoughts on this proposal.

As read at the October 9, 2023 General Membership Meeting:

Comes now, member in good standing of the IACES, Francis McGarry, membership #7988.

I propose to amend section 3.2 of our Bylaws, by adding section 3.2.6 which shall read:

Section 3.2.6 The Executive Board shall perform every act necessary and proper to create and submit an annual budget for approval to the General Membership at a regular Club meeting.

Description:

The IACES has over $700,000 currently in total assets and just south of $440,000 in our bank accounts, as per the October report. An organization of this size needs a budget. The bylaws already include an “Audit Committee” and an organizational budget would complement that provision and improve the audit process. This proposal gives the board the authority to determine what is necessary to create and submit an annual budget for membership approval. It requires the board to do so in a proper manner; that is consistent with our bylaws and governing documents.

As read at the October 9, 2023 General Membership Meeting:

Comes now member in good standing of the IACES, Michael Byrne, membership #4846:

I propose to amend section 2.4.1 of our Bylaws, which currently reads:

Section 2.4.1 Terms of Office: All officers shall assume their duties and powers immediately following their election. A term of office shall be one (1) year. No member elected to an office, including the at-large position, shall be permitted to hold the same elected office more than two consecutive terms.

The proposal is to rescind/delete the last sentence (in italics).

Description:

This proposal does not affect the length per term nor the electoral process. It simply removes term limits. If the Club has a board member that would like to continue to serve the membership and the membership supports that in an election, then that should be permitted in our bylaws.

These proposals are published as a courtesy to the membership. The second reading and discussion will occur at the November 13 General Membership Meeting and a vote will occur at the December 11 meeting. Please, join us and share your thoughts on these proposals.

BOOK BUZZ

Bonnie Easton

We know food is necessary to sustain life, but what can it tell us about our culture? A History of the Irish as Told by Their Food: A Book about Ireland and Irish Americans with Recipes by Leslie Landrigan tells us the symbolism of such customs as eating oatcakes on St. Brigid's Day or how Catholicism affected the Irish diet. Some of the recipes included in the book are Pea Soup, Irish Stew, Dublin Coddle, Champ, Soda Bread, Bread Pudding with Whiskey Sauce, and more.

The Unknown Beloved: A Novel by Amy Harmon (What the Wind Knows) takes place in Chicago and Cleveland during the era of Al Capone and Eliot Ness. Dani Flanagan is only 10 years old when her parents are found dead, and Michael Malone is the detective on the case. Dani is sent to live with her spinster aunts in Cleveland. Fifteen years later, Malone is in Cleveland with Ness to help track down a serial killer and crosses paths with Dani who helps him with his case. They are in a race to find the killer before he strikes again.

The Trap by Catherine Ryan Howard is a psychological thriller based on unsolved murders in Ireland in the 1990s. Lucy's sister, Nicki, disappears after leaving home to meet friends at a pub. Angela works for the police as a paper-pusher, but wants to join the Missing Persons Unit as a garda (police officer). She starts her own investigation into the disappearance of Nicki and two other women. Can she prevent another woman from going missing?

Death in Irish Accents by Catie Murphy is the fourth in the author's Dublin Driver mystery series. Limo driver, Megan Malone, was born in the United States and moved to Ireland where she has found herself playing amateur detective on a few occasions. She works for Leprechaun Limos. While she is sitting in a Dublin café, a young dead woman falls in her lap. The deceased was a protégé of Megan's new client, romance novelist Claire Woodward. Claire asks Megan to assist in solving the murder. Can she help without ruffling the feathers of detective Paul Bourke?
